

John J. Kilgallon

Vice President, Investor Relations

John J. Kilgallon, Vice President of Investor Relations of Continental Resources, Inc. leads all aspects of Continental's Investor Relations program, shaping and effectively communicating the company's financial and operating strategy and broader objectives to the investment community. Before joining Continental in 2013, Mr. Kilgallon held various investor relation positions at Chesapeake Energy and Kerr McGee, where he gained more than 12 years of energy specific experience. Mr. Kilgallon has provided guest lectures in finance, economics and energy management topics to various educational institutions, including Oklahoma State University, Oklahoma City University and Pennsylvania State University. He holds a Bachelor of Science in Finance from Oklahoma State University and a Masters of Business Administration from Oklahoma City University and serves on the Oklahoma State Spears School of Business Alumni Society Board of Directors.