Thirteenth Annual
OKLAHOMA STATE UNIVERSITY
ENERGY CONFERENCE

Attend the OSU Energy Conference to learn from experts in the energy industry and network with energy business professionals. After attending this conference, you will have a better understanding about the current energy market, where Oklahoma stands in that market, and predictions for the future.

MAY 23, 2019
COX BUSINESS CONVENTION CENTER
Downtown Oklahoma City
9:00 a.m. to 3:45 p.m.

Offered by the Department of Finance and the Center for Executive and Professional Development in the Spears School of Business at Oklahoma State University
9:00 a.m.  Welcome
Dean Ken Eastman, Spears School of Business, Oklahoma State University
Moderator: Griff Jones, President and Chief Executive Officer, Twin Eagle Resource Management, LLC, Houston, TX

9:15 a.m.  Technology and Regulations
How technological advances and customer demands will impact the electric industry of the future.
Sean Trauschke, Chairman, President & CEO, OGE Energy Corp., Oklahoma City, OK

10:00 a.m  Break

10:15 a.m.  How Technology is Changing Unconventional Resource Development
CEO Dave Hager explains how Devon develops and deploys technology to transform operations and improve performance.
Dave Hager, President and Chief Executive Officer, Devon Energy, Oklahoma City, OK

11:00 a.m.  Big Data in the Oilfield
There is a byline in Silicon Valley that oil and gas is the next big sector to be disrupted by big data. We will discuss how this disruption is occurring, impediments to this disruption occurring in a broader, more impactful way, and what data science means and what it does not mean in the context of the industry.
Kate Richard, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Warwick Energy Group, Oklahoma City, OK
Co-presented with Chris Buie, Director of Data Science and Strategic Initiatives, Warwick Energy Group, Oklahoma City, OK

12:00 p.m.  Lunch

12:45 p.m.  The Midstream Imperative: Meeting the Challenges in Connecting Energy to Global Markets
Tim Roberts will discuss the critical role pipelines play in energy infrastructure and how best to navigate the challenging midstream landscape.
Timothy D. Roberts, Executive Vice President, Midstream, Phillips 66, Houston, TX

1:30 p.m.  The Permian: Opportunities and Challenges Moving Forward
Engineers, geologists and technical professionals have a lot on their plate in the Permian Basin. The area has seen energy production for nearly 100 years, with its best days to come. Below the surface, there’s a 9,000-foot hydrocarbon-charged stratigraphic column in the Delaware portion of the basin that boasts plenty to discover. It features bench after bench of oil and gas producing formations stacked on top of each other like pancakes. Unlocking this potential requires real-time continuous learning about vertical and horizontal spacing, landing zones and completion designs.
Rick Muncrief, Chief Executive Officer, WPX Energy, Tulsa, OK

2:15 p.m.  Break

2:30 p.m.  Changing Role of Private Equity in the Energy Sector
