

Sylvia A. Hill

313 S. Orchard Street, Stillwater, OK 74074 | (405) 334-6036 (cell) | (405) 533-1153 (hm) | sylvia.hill55@outlook.com

Career Summary

For 15 years, I have taught a variety of writing courses at Oklahoma State University: Freshman Composition, ESL Composition, and currently Business Communication, a required writing class for junior level business majors.

Professional Experience

Oklahoma State University – Spears School of Business August 2017-Present
Business Communication, lecturer

Oklahoma State University – English Language Institute November 2009-July 2017
ESL Instructor – all levels/all skills/full-time June 2006-November 2009
ESL Instructor – part-time

Northern Oklahoma College – Stillwater, OK August 2006-December 2008
Composition Instructor and Writing Tutor

Hiatus – Caring for family, Homeschooling three children 1989-2006

Tulsa Public Schools August 1988 to May 1989
Substitute Teacher, ESL

OSU's ELI and English Department June 1986 to December 1987
Adjunct Instructor – Composition, ESL, and Writing Center

Westwood Elementary School October 1985 to May 1986
TESL Intern – Oklahoma's first total immersion ESL program

Oklahoma State University August 1984 to May 1987
Teaching Assistant for Freshman Composition

Education

College of William and Mary in Virginia May 1977
B.A: Psychology and Education

Oklahoma State University May 1987
M.A: Teaching English as a Second Language

Professional Involvement

Association for Business Communication – Member

2019 Asia and the Pacific Conference – ABC/WCA Joint Conference – Presenter July 8-12, 2019
Massey University, Wellington, New Zealand
Topic: Internet Culture Against Correct Grammar: How Do BCOM Instructors Fight the Good Fight?

LinkedIn -- <https://www.linkedin.com/in/sylvia-hill-722900158>

Personal Interests

Dead languages | Fiddling | Tennis | Swimming | Travel | Podcasts | Reading | Thinking | Writing